

Jonathan Ng

Jonathan is a racquets professional with extensive domestic and international experience in program development, coaching, staff education, and racquet sports management. As Director of Racquets at Kingsbury Club & Spa, he oversees a wide range of clinics, tournaments, and social programming, building a highly engaged and inclusive member community.

He is known for creating innovative programs, including a successful Adult Academy model later adopted by the USTA Billie Jean King National Tennis Center. Under his leadership, junior and team offerings have expanded.

An accomplished coach, Jonathan has worked with players from beginner to international competitive levels, emphasizing a player-centered approach that builds confidence and fosters a lifelong love of the game.

Collaborative, strategic, and passionate about community and player development, Jonathan brings energy, vision, and a commitment to excellence in racquets programming.
