

Emily Simeone

After falling in love with tennis as a child at summer camp, Emily came back to the sport 20+ years later when she enrolled in a Fundamentally Fun Clinic at Kingsbury Club. After that day, she was hooked... again!

An athlete from early on, Emily played multiple Varsity high school sports, including basketball, volleyball, soccer, and softball. Ultimately, she went on to play basketball for the Tufts University Women's Program where she scored 1,000+ points and was named NESCAC and NEWBA Rookie of the Year.

After college, she earned her Master's in Social Work from Fordham University and her post-master's advanced graduate certification in Educational Leadership from Stony Brook University. Her company, The Sweet Circle, provides birth and postpartum doula services. Yet, her wonderful daughters are, by far, her greatest achievements (Hi girls!).

A PTR-certified instructor, Emily coaches Red Ball classes and plays on Kingsbury's MITA and USTA teams. She loves the wonderful community of KC tennis players.
